Annex I § 3.1.2

Adopted by WGP28/01/1999*Adopted by CLAP*28/01/1999*Subject: ESR on manufacturing - Forming proceduresQuestion: How to interpret point 3.1.1 of Annex I as far as the forming procedures are concerned?

Does it impose for the manufacturer a qualification procedure for forming operations which will be validated by the Notified Body?

Answer: The Directive does not require for qualification of forming procedures in § 3.1.1 of Annex I, although it includes such a qualification for permanent joints in § 3.1.2 of Annex I.

But there is an essential requirement about the preparation of the component parts (cf Annex I § 3.1.1) and the manufacturer shall demonstrate in the technical documentation of the equipment that this requirement has been satisfied.

Depending on the modules, the Notified Body may examine this technical documentation.
